

Use of Tenses

Past Tense: As kids, we used to play soccer in the village every day, We ran around, played hide and seek, and had so much fun. The whole village kids would come together, and everyone enjoyed the games. We forgot to do our home chores just to spend more time playing outside. Every morning, we would leave our homes early, and we came back in the evening, tired but happy.

Verbs used in paragraph: used – Past simple, ran – Past simple, had – Past simple, would – Past simple, enjoyed – Past simple, forgot – Past simple, would leave – Past simple, came – Past simple.

Present Tense: Now, the kids in the village still play soccer and run around together. They enjoy hide and seek just like we did. It feels great to see them laughing and having fun. Sometimes, they forgot their chores to keep playing. The mornings are filled with excitement, and they come back home only when the sun sets.

Verbs used in paragraph: still play – Present Simple, enjoy – Present Simple, feels – Present Simple, forgot – Present Simple, are – Present Simple, come back – Present Simple, sets – Present Simple.

Future Tense: In the future, I hope the kids will still play soccer and run around as we did. They will enjoy the games and make unforgettable memories. If they forget their chores to play, their parents will understand, just like ours did. The mornings will be full of joy, and they will come back home with big smiles.

Verbs used in paragraph: hope – Present Simple, will still play – Future Simple, did – Past Simple, will enjoy – Future Simple, make – Future Simple, forget – Present Simple, will understand – Future Simple, did – Past Simple, will be – Future Simple, will come back – Future Simple.

Example of If-Clause found in paragraph of future tense

– If they forget their chores to play, their parents will understand, just like ours did.